This boundless and widespread south facing property is rather impressive, with the majestic Mijas mountains seemingly offering a protective shoulder behind. Set on a considerable plot of nearly 900m², this residence enjoys all round views that encapsulate the sea, the mountain range and its beautifully tended gardens. As you enter this family home, the hallway welcomes you in warmly whilst your gaze is immediately drawn over and up to the elegant marble staircase that winds its way to the upper floor. The kitchen, just off from the hallway, is clean-cut and streamlined, with a striking bay window that not only houses the sink in its unit but also offers a supreme vantage point from which...
