For many buyers, owning a penthouse in Higuerón remains just a dream. The reason is often simple. Three-bedroom penthouses in Higuerón can easily exceed €1 million. But do you really need three bedrooms? If the property is for a couple living here year-round, or as a holiday home for a family of four, the answer is surprisingly often no. Instead, it makes more sense to focus on what the property actually offers. The greatest strength of this recently completed two-bedroom penthouse is its spacious southwest-facing rooftop terrace. There is sunshine well into the evening, plenty of space for dining, relaxing and entertaining, and a large jacuzzi completes the experience. You don&#...
