Set within one of Nueva Andalucía's most discreet gated developments, this duplex penthouse offers three generously proportioned en-suite bedrooms, a guest WC, and open sea views from every principal room, with La Concha rising to the left for a truly distinctive backdrop. Each bedroom enjoys its own private, south-facing terrace, filling the interiors with light throughout the day. The main living level is defined by high ceilings, polished marble flooring, and a working fireplace, with air conditioning throughout and a dedicated laundry room adjoining the kitchen. Upstairs, the primary suite and second bedroom continue the same sun-filled, south-facing orientation, each opening onto...
