Set on an elevated plot in La Paloma, this villa has one of the better views you'll find on the western Costa del Sol. On a clear day you can see all the way to North Africa. It's a genuinely impressive setting, and the house has been designed to make the most of it. The living space comes to around 560 m², with large windows throughout that bring in plenty of light and keep the view front and centre from almost every room. Inside and outside flow naturally into each other, which works well for the way most people actually want to live here. The main house has four bedrooms, all en-suite. On the garden level there's a self-contained guest apartment with its own entrance, be...
